Soccer fans around the Cape flocked to Athlone Stadium this past Saturday (11 October, 2014) to catch the finals of the Coca-Cola Amateur Cup 2014. Crowds were treated to sporting talent as U17s Ajax Cape Town and Masidlale took centre stage at 10:00. Ajax Cape Town beat their opponent 2 – 0 as Luthando Mateza scored both goals.

Next up was a heated match between the women's teams Vasco da Gama and RV United, both scoring no goals but Vasco da Gama won on penalties 4 – 2. The final and much-anticipated game of the day saw the men's teams Silver Spur and Bluegum United battle it out to an enthusiastic crowd. Silver Spur was victorious as Nizaam Miller scored all three goals against the Bluegum United's nil.

PenBev's Marketing Asset Manager, Matthew Jewell comments, "Once again, the talent in the Western Cape soccer communities is outstanding and we are fortunate enough to help these teams demonstrate their skills through our sponsorship. We look forward to seeing what next year's tournament holds..."

The Coca-Cola Cup tournament is in its 19th year with SAFA Cape Town spearheading the games. The 2014 tournament began in mid-May with 446 men's teams, 306 U17 teams and 24 women's teams taking part.
